MUSEUM DAY

Each year, Smithsonian magazine hosts Museum Day—this year's event is on April 4th. According to the Museum Day website, it is "an annual celebration of boundless curiosity . . . ". Once again, the Museum has partnered with Smithsonian to offer free admission for two people. Tickets will be available to download or print from the Museum Day website starting February 27, 2020. To get your ticket, just visit: <https://www.smithsonianmag.com/museumday/museum-day-2020/> and click on "Find a Museum". Type in Reedville Fishermen's Museum and follow the instructions to print or download your ticket. Smithsonian only allows one download per e-mail address, so if you want to take advantage of free admission for multiple guests, it will require you to use more than one e-mail address.

What a great way to introduce guests to the Museum for free! This year's Museum Day is April 4th, which is the same day as the Easter Bunny's arrival (see above). So plan to visit the Museum FOR FREE after you finish with the Easter festivities.
